

ATTACK OF THE Clown Dentist Zombies

by Scott Haan

Susan and Xander patiently sit through their dad's meeting, a gathering of local dentists, where it is decided that the best way to keep patients from being scared of regular checkups is for the dentists to dress as clowns while working. Refreshments are offered, but deciding to not eat Bernice Hoffenbridle's cookies might be the best decision the kids have ever made, especially when they hear that her new bakery is conveniently located right between the nuclear waste treatment plant and the experimental chemistry lab. But the adult dentists do indulge in the tainted cookies, unwittingly launching a full-scale epidemic... It's the clown dentist zombie apocalypse! Can Susan and Xander somehow dodge the onslaught of zombie clowns, zombie mimes, and even a zombie juggler who can't juggle? Can they find their father before he turns into one of the creatures? And most importantly, can they find a solution to humanity's darkest hour? The jokes and the silliness fly fast and furious in the craziest apocalypse you'll ever have to survive.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR PET

with Dr. Marla Brett

by Andrew Frodahl

Tons of fun and physical comedy energize this truly “wild” one-act farce. Revolutionary pet therapist Dr. Marla Brett has recently developed a new pill that she claims will help people better understand their pets. Her protégé, Dr. Lizzie Linkester, is overjoyed to handle the trial run of the new drug at her veterinarian clinic. Eager patients, including a US senator, a farmer, and an exterminator, flood the clinic in hopes of learning to communicate better with their pets. But medical breakthrough turns to chaos as the pet owners return, suffering from an unforeseen side effect — they’re now starting to act like their animals! Skillfully written so that each actor has his or her moment in the spotlight, you won’t be barking up the wrong tree when you produce this riotous show. It’s the cat’s meow!
